

Stacey DuPont is the K-5 literacy specialist in RasTanura for Saudi Aramco Schools. She provides elementary teachers with professional staff development through demonstration lessons, and collaborative coaching. After receiving her masters in reading instruction from Alfred University, Stacey served as a literacy specialist for Fairfax County Schools in the Washington, D.C. area and at the American Embassy School in New Delhi, India. In addition, Stacey frequently attends the Teachers College Reading Writing Project at Columbia University. Stacey has presented her literacy work at NESAs conferences in India, Jordan, and Bangkok.